Comments: single track trails

Thanks for taking my input.

I have been riding at the Wayne national forest since around 1980. I have seen many changes over the years. I quit riding there about 7 years ago due to all of the Quad/ ATV vehicles that take up all of the trail. My son and I had many close calls with large ATV's. The trails are so wide and open that the trails system was not challenging to ride except at at high speeds. All of the hills that we climbed have been blocked from us to ride.

I would love to see single track trails that would give the motorcycle riders a challenging place to ride again.

Thanks,

Tom May
