Comments: Please keep King Mountain open to Paragliding and Hang Gliding. I first came to the region over 20 years ago specifically to paraglide. I have been back many times and ONLY to paraglide off that magical mountain. Our flying sites are becoming more rare as land use issues gobble up world famous sites like "King". That's all you have to say to a paraglider or hang glider... "King" and they know that exact spot and for no other reason. I understand the need to protect land, but as flyers, we have very low impact on the land and it's a way for us to experience this unique sport and visit unique destinations, which are fewer and fewer. In Utah many of our sites are being closed due to development. That's what we love about King... lots of space and wide open lands to enjoy.
