Comments: I am a paraglider pilot living in Pocatello. I have frequently launched my paraglider from King Mountain, Mount Borah, and other locations in the Lost River and Lemhi Ranges. This area provides some of the greatest flying there is. It is very important to me that existing access is maintained to these locations and that they are not designated as wilderness areas. They are already wild places due to their very nature - I'm not sure what a "wilderness" designation would do other than to make them inaccessible to people who recreate there.
