Comments: Dear Salmon-Challis National Forest officers,

I have been a hang glider pilot since 1984. I am concerned that King Mountain may lie within an area designated as a wilderness area which could close access to what is a world class hang gliding and paragliding flying site. Please find a solution so that we may continue to fly at King Mountain. Our sport does not harm the environment nor does it cause noise pollution. And, there is a long history of our use of King Mountain for our flying activities. Please coordinate with the United States Hang Gliding and Paragliding Association to craft a workable solution.

Thank you for your efforts.
