Comments: So many wild horse and burro advocates have weighed in lately begging you to listen to the Academy of Science study that we tax payers paid for. It is not in your interests, the majority of citizens' interests, and especially not in the interests of the wild horses and burros to continue down the same, unchanged path. Please consider the intelligent solutions for protecting the wild horses and burros. Most of us agree that sustainable options are available that does not include the destruction of our American heritage.
