Comments: The Salmon-Challis National Forest is the largest forest in the state, and contains some of its wildest remaining unroaded areas. These areas have been managed as wilderness for years, preserving their exceptional wilderness characteristics. I support permanently protecting them as wilderness for our future.

I have caught trout, run by bull moose, led students on backpack trips, and watched my kids catch their first trout on a fly in this area.

Wilderness keeps this area pristine forever. But it is more about the trout, moose, wolves, bear, deer, elk, mountain lions, and mountain goats. They need this place to survive and thrive.

Make Borah Peak and the North Slope Pioneers wilderness!!!!
