Comments: Our ecosystem is in free fall, do not touch our national monuments. This is the only administration in history that is actively seeking to destroy what other administration have sought to preserve. Do not destroy what little wilderness that we have left. It is unconscionable for any political party to destroy our natural reserves' because our native species are being pushed beyond their ability to maintain a healthy populations, further human encroachment will bring extinction for those species on the brink! Keeyour hands off of our National Parks, period !!!!!!!
