Comments: What good is it to have all this roadless country if no one can access it? It's like having 10 billion dollars in the bank that you never touch and pass it on to future generations with the stipulation that it can't be spent. The roads are there already let the public enjoy the mountains. Are you saying the handicapped, the elderly and those unable to ride or afford horses aren't deserving of this public land? Please allow more access to OUR forests.
