Comments: At this time, I am choosing Alternative A plan as none of the plans seem appropriate. I have recreated in our National Forest for about 50 years and the changes in management have not been positive. In earlier years the trails were well maintained, very little noxious weeds, open grassy meadows and healthy trees.

As I understand the purpose of National Forest it was for public use. When we go to any campground there are no available spaces and very few trails for motorized use. As we age our methods of recreating have necessarily changed. There are enough wilderness areas for those who are able to hike but the majority of people need easier access. Ideally I would love to see more campgrounds with larger areas, multiple- use trails for motorized and non-motorized vehicles, timber harvesting for healthier forests, domestic sheep grazing, more over snow access and weed management.
