Comments: Humanity has become like a plague of sheer numbers on this planet. Can we not stop our own spread of metal and machinery in every nook and cranny so that animals can have some peace on this earth?

Don't allow people to "ride" into our pristine places with anything but the strength of their legs. Hold up the right to have silence and quiet, not infringing on a perfect place that did absolutely fine without us. If we insist on invading these natural wonders, let it be on foot.
