Comments: 2019 Montana Indian Educator of the Year

I would like the Crazies to be protected either as recommended wilderness or as a backcountry area with prohibitions against road building and development. I myself have spend time in the area and would like to ensure that future generations of my tribe are given the same opportunity to practice their spiritual beliefs. Montana has been leading the nation in it's forward thinking and respectfulness towards its indigenous people and I hope that this state can continue to lead in this fashion concerning the Crazies.
