Comments: Sirs,

I own a forest service cabin in the CGNF, at Porcupine Creek, so I am intimately familiar with both that part of the forest as well as the issues with various users and uses, both close to the Gallatin River as well as up into the Hyalite Porcupine WSA. As growth continues in the Bozeman/Big Sky area I think it is really important to more strongly codify protections in the area. I support Alternative C as a good middle ground for allowing recreational uses yet protecting backcountry and wildlife corridors in the Yellowstone Ecosystem.
