Comments: I hope the Forest Service will implement Plan D. This region is critical grizzly bear habitat, and grizzly bears are in critical danger. The dangers they face include not "merely" climate change, which is leading to changes and depletions in their critical food sources, but habitat encroachment from the Jackson Hole-izing of the Bozeman area; as well as incidents with hikers and hunters, in which the bear nearly always loses.

I understand that mountain biking endangers bears, so please don't allow mountain biking in the region under the scope of this comment period.

Thank you.
