Comments: I don't believe that limiting access to our great public lands is fair or ethical. I enjoy our wilderness trails on a motorcycle and it has minimal impact on the lands, it is a great way to see and explore places that I wouldn't ever get to see . I have reviewed your options and prefer option E as it would potentially open up more areas for the public to explore, it would generate the most revenue, and potentially reduce our risk of wildfires by more timber thinning. However If E isn't chosen I would prefer it to stay the way it is, option A.
