Comments: Montana is the last best place BECAUSE of it's wild areas. We need to do everything in our power to protect these places. There is nothing I love more than being able to access our public lands and recreate. I'm a climber and a person who absolutely loves being outside and enjoying everything mother nature has created. The lack of protection of any of our wild places would be a serious mistake - one we would regret for the rest of time. Please, please protect these sacred lands.
