Comments: My wife and I have lived below the Chalk Buttes on its west side for thirty years. We realize through the teaching of our Northern Cheyenne native friends that this land is holy ground to them and many native tribes. They believe that wherever one stands and can view the Buttes that the land upon which they stand is a part of this religious ground. America's protection of our citizens' freedom of religion compels us to cherish and to protect these lands.

Every good wish,

Doug and Mary Stange
