Comments: I would like to reiterate that in this current political climate, where the desire to drill and mine the earth into oblivion seems to be the prevailing attitude, I would like to see you all take a stand against that mentality and continue to fight to protect areas of wilderness from roads, from drilling and mining, and from other forms of short-sighted exploitation that will haunt the world's people for millennia.

Please manage this area for "the seventh generation" and for today's greed and instant profits.

Thank you.
