Comments: As a resident of the Gallatin Canyon and member of the renowned women's hiking group called BWAGs, I have been hiking the surrounding mountains for many years. The annual trek to the Crazies is a favorite as we battle the pitch and the wind to find a glorious lunch spot overlooking a secluded lake. Chattering as we do, we seldom see major fauna, but we are absolutely entranced with the tiniest of those tough mountaintop wildflowers! Please keep these priceless lands wild and preserved for many generations! Their greatest value to all life on earth is to be even more wild than they currently are.
