Comments: I have lived adjacent to the Custer Gallatin National Forest for 38 years. It is an incredibly special place, without the devastation that has happened on so many other forests. At this point, much of our area's economy is dependent on its protection. So please:

1. Do NOT sacrifice a single acre of Wilderness already legislated, and DO give as much of the CGNF wild areas, including the Crazy Mountains, the Wilderness protection that they deserve, and that the Native People's are legally entitled to;
2. Do NOT allow any motorized or mechanical vehicles in wilderness, or on NEW areas on the Forest. Mountain Bikes are a really bad idea in Grizzly and Mountain Lion habitats;
3. Do NOT allow any new roads, nor conversion of trails to roads, and no private road easements.
4. Do NOT add any more trails to wild, trail-less areas. Wild animals need solitude to roam, and existing wilderness needs to be maintained as such.

Thank you so much for protecting this beautiful, mostly unspoiled, place!
