Comments: Rocky Mountain High,

Where they should land crafts that fly.

Yet we understand the impact of man,

We also like to play where we can.

The outdoors are where we spend our days,

Weaving in and out of trails that put us in a daze.

In our youth we spent time on the peak of Hyalite,

Looking onto the Gallatin Crest Trail was quite a delight.

In 1869 Abe set aside the Montana Territory,

For which bison and bears were in all their glory.

We want to protect them were they roam,

The forest is their original home.

Now this will make you grin:

Make Wilderness Great Again.
