Comments: I support Alternative D because I feel that preserving as much wildlife habitat as possible is the most important goal we should strive for. In view of the increasing pressure on using the national forest, this is more important than ever. Wildlife do not respect artificial human boundaries and they need more space, especially contiguous to Yellowstone National Park. Although outdoor recreation is important for our health and for the local economy, these are short term needs. We need to think of long term and to do what we can to preserve nature.
