Comments: To begin with there is not enough information in this scoping letter to tell me anything about what the project entails. You reference a lot of section and pages of guidelines of forest plan that I have no idea what it says and have never seen the forest plan. I know when Ranger Garten was in the forest riding horses with us he was very concern about how previous logging was done and the trees were coming back up 3 or 4 out of one stump. He said they needed to come back and do that correctly. Also there are several upland openings that were previously logged for the wildlife but they have grown up and the trees are encroaching on them as well. My point is why don't you go back and correct what has already been done to manage our National Forest before you begin logging new areas.
