Comments: I'd like to give my full support for the Non motorized trail projects in the Chicken Creek area, as well as the short motorized improvements and reroutes in the Golconda area. We always need to look at ways to improve our trail system, motorized and non. I support new Non motorized trails and access for human powered recreation very strongly. Not to bash on the motorized users too much, but the whole side by side "Razor" thing has gotten a bit out of control, perhaps not in this part of the San Juan national forest but it's bound to come. I cant say that I have an answer, and I don't believe in any kind of extreme blanket bans on motorized use. But the razors are taking over places like Moab and Silverton, just to name a few. It's clear that these vehicles as extracting a heavy toll on our forests and trails. I think the Aspen ATV route is a great example of motorized routes that work for everyone. But lets keep the razors off the county roads and city streets!
