Comments: Please think about how many lives you will be effecting. Seriously how much wilderness do you need to close off to motorized use?! Over the snow vehicles do not effect plant life or animal life. And most of the snowmobile community are some of the most respectful people I know. There's already millions of acres of non motorized use wilderness in the states. We really don't need anymore. Please do not do this, this is so wrong on so many levels! I alone have a thousand friends and I'm going to tell all of them to vote and comment against this. I, as part of the snowmobile community in western Colorado will try and fight this to the best of my ability!
