Comments: I have lived within view of the grand Mesa national forest for more than 40 years. I am concerned that the proposed plan will diminish the wild and natural aspect of the land. The reference to voluntary compliance is nothing more than permission for expansion of off road use and intrusion by humans who will deplete the natural Beauty of wilderness. We have already given over too much acreage to human encroachment in the west. We must save lands for wildlife....and for our children and their children to discovering future generations. The promise of profit to corporate interests is a ver short sided motive to take our wilderness away. Keep it wild, PLEASE! !!!
