Comments: Lift 6 should be removed and all efforts should be to return the area to as much of a natural state as possible.

Skiing is a carbon intensive sport which disturbs and denies habitat to wildlife. People often fly in from out of state to ski, polluting with jet travel, local Coloradans drive up from Denver causing massive traffic jams and again polluting. People who stay in hotels or eat at resorts make it necessary to heat and all foods must be imported from far away.

Recent news reports call attention to the obvious decline of elk herds due to out door recreation especially via ski resorts like Vail.
