Comments: I've been an avid off-road, camping, fishing, and hunting enthusiast all of my 50+ years. I've gone out of my way to clean up off road mess (including group cleanups where I used my rig to retrieve trash from arroyos), and educate others. And I think it is ridiculous how year after year responsible use is continuously eroded by measures like this closing public access to many areas that have always been available.

In short, I'm against any reduction in access or any road closures on public lands. Closing all these access roads, particularly in the desert, effectively removes these lands from public access. So please, do the right thing and don't eliminate any of the proposed roads. Even if you end maintenance, keep them open for those than can still access them.
