Comments: As a life long resident of Arizona, I wholeheartedly disagree with any and all road closures. These roads provide access to the forest for many reasons such as recreation, removal of dead trees for fuelwood for people who heat their homes in the winter with wood, and are used by firefighters to fight and control burns that arise. I believe that closing these roads would also limit access to hunters. The Game and Fish Department relies on hunters to take a certain number of big game animals each year to maintain healthy herds. I also believe that people will be more likely to break the law and travel off designated travel paths that are no longer available to them. Please consider leaving the roads that are open the way they are. Many people including my family enjoy the forest and respect it. Thank you.
