Comments: Please keep the roads open! One of Arizona's greatest features is our network for forest roads, allowing us to actually explore this great state of ours and escape the concrete jungle for the great outdoors.

I actively use our forest roads on a regular basis, and have talked to many out-of-state backcountry explorers who are jealous of what Arizona offers in terms of forest roads (as well as to those who left Arizona not realizing how good we had it here and were profoundly disappointed in the equivalent infrastructure of other states).

I love the USFS. I love our forest roads. They're one of the best things about this state. PLEASE do not close them.
