Clean Air Act Title IV - Noise Pollution
The 1990 Clean Air Act Amendments added a new title IV, relating to acid deposition control, without repealing the existing title IV, relating to noise pollution. The U.S. Code designates the original title IV (noise pollution) as subchapter IV and the new title IV (acid deposition control) as subchapter IV-A.

We might not be able to keep noise from everywhere, but we certainly do not need to put the noise of gun fire within ear-shot of recreation space.
