Comments: Article 1, Section 8, Clause 17 of the United States Constitution. Federal government has no authority to control, operate or own any land within the United States without approval of the people, which can be revoked at any time. Forts, Ports, and 10 square miles of Washington DC is all the federal government can control at any given time and it can be revoked by the people at any given time shall we see fit. They do not have the authority or approval of the people to close ANYTHING without the prior approval of the people. They are operating illegally by doing this.

"What country can preserve its liberties if their rulers are not warned from time to time that their people preserve the spirit of resistance. Let them take arms."

- Thomas Jefferson, letter to James Madison, December 20, 1787

"I prefer dangerous freedom over peaceful slavery."

- Thomas Jefferson, letter to James Madison, January 30, 1787
