Comments: The public road network in Arizona is vital to Arizona's tourism industry as well as a selling point for Arizona residents. Most people who utilize these roads are more experienced participants in the usage of Arizona public lands and extremely good stewards of the land. We offer leave no trace as well as taken the extra step of policing the lands for the very few unsavory types. By closing access you restrict law abiding and respectful people while welcoming those with bad intention on using and exploiting the lands for dumping, illegal hunts and lumbering, even illicit drug grows, because bad people know the roads will be rarely used any longer by the "good" guys.

Access to these roads is truly a gem and cherished gift many Arizona residents love and treat with respect. I sincerely hope these road will remain open for public use. Thanks!
