Comments: Hello all. As an avid hiker, camper , mountain biker, and dirt bike rider, I feel pretty well versed in the etiquette each of these awesome activities is my responsibility given the activity I'm having fun enjoying.

Unless there's true quantifiable, human-caused destruction occurring that endangers the wildlife and ecosystem, there's no reason to close trails to one activity vs another.

My wife and kids appreciate the luxury that we have with access to these trails and enjoy all of the activities as family, as I have also done countless times with non-family members groups of friends.

Thank you for taking a moment to read my feedback and disdain for trail closures.

Cheers ~ Peter Clark & Family.
