

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 10/17/2019 8:00:00 AM

First name: Kenneth

Last name: Oden

Organization:

Title:

Comments: The destruction of our Alaska Wildlife & trees would be a loss for the American people. We wouldn't get to see such a beautiful site that Alaska has given us. With global warming actually happening the worst thing we could do would cut down more trees for just dumb roads. Buy a snow vehicle it's much cheaper than cutting down over 900 acres of forest and causing less stress to produce clean air for all.

Alternative 1 takes no action and would leave all of Alaska under the 2001 Roadless Rule, including the Tongass National Forest.

I stand by the 2001 Roadless rule and the protection of the Tongass National Forest

[Position]

[Position]