Comments: Some ecosystems just NEED to stay "Preserved" rather than "Conserved". The Tongass needs to be Preserved. There is enough accessible public land in Alaska that the Tongass does NOT need to become criss-crossed with roads.

Unfortunately, any time a formerly road-less area becomes 'roaded' we see a huge increase in litter, neglected use, too many roads than was planned/promised/approved, degradation of the old growth habitat, and loss of yet another rare and valuable ecosystem.

There's plenty of other places to log. NOT the Tongass.
