Comments: Dear USFS,

We are in an environmental and ecosystem crisis. Opening pristine, dense biodiverse forests to development is a foolhardy, shortsighted effort that confuses asset destruction for value creation. Logging will benefit a crooked few for a short time instead of leaving pristine assets yielding EVERGREEN employment for generations to come. Also, our species depends on ecosystem services and we are CURRENTLY in an ecosystem loss crisis.

I voice STRONG objection to removing the 2001 protections on the Old-Growth Tongass forest. It is a national and global asset upon which lives depend. The initiative to open it to logging is corrupt.

Don't let them take our forests, our rivers, our animals. STOP this incursion now. If any citizen is not infuriated by this attempt to steal from our children, they are corrupt or not paying attention.
