

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 10/22/2019 8:00:00 AM

First name: Marcy

Last name: Anon

Organization:

Title:

Comments: We are running out of time. It has become critical that we start preserving and protecting the Earth's natural resources more now than ever before.

I live in Dayton, Ohio, where tornadoes used to be relatively uncommon. On memorial day, 2019, 15 tornadoes touched down in my city. An EF4 completely decimated a densely wooded park near my home (along with several neighborhoods).

The world is already tearing itself apart, there is no need for us to do it as well.

[Position]

[Position]