Comments: Please don't put any roads or do timber felling in this old forest.

There are many creatures, many species of Flora and fauna and those need to be undisturbed to flourish.

It is desperately important that a good part of the world is kept independent of human activity that will damage or change it any way.

We aren't sure of how much it contributes to balancing climate safety but we do know there are many things undiscovered we don't yet know about and these may be vital for the future.

Please save a good percentage of various habitats intact and give everything, everybody a chance.
