Comments: As a life long Alaskan and former USFS employ in Sitka, Alaska, I have plenty of experience living, recreating, hunting and fishing in the Tongass National Forest.  Rescinding the road less rule is an asinine ploy by our National leaders to log the largest national forest in the United States.  Governor Dunleavy, President Trump, Senators Sullivan and Murkowski do not care about the South East Alaskan citizens that actually live in these areas. Similar to the Pebble Mine, they are willing to override science for a chance to developer resources and make a buck. Even at the expense of locals and salmon.	Data Submitted (UTC 11): 10/23/2019 8:00:00 AM  First name: JOSEPH  Last name: JURCZAK  Organization:
United States.  Governor Dunleavy, President Trump, Senators Sullivan and Murkowski do not care about the South East Alaskan citizens that actually live in these areas. Similar to the Pebble Mine, they are willing to override science for a chance to developer resources and make a buck. Even at the expense of locals and salmon.  The days of huge clear cuts are over as the huge drainages that were fruitful such as Katlian or Corner bay, etc have been cleared and the trees are not mature enough to even log those spots again.  No locals support this. The 80's hey dey of logging is dead. Time to move.  Concerned citizen,	Title:  Comments: As a life long Alaskan and former USFS employ in Sitka, Alaska, I have plenty of experience living, recreating, hunting and fishing in the Tongass National Forest.
Alaskan citizens that actually live in these areas. Similar to the Pebble Mine, they are willing to override science for a chance to developer resources and make a buck. Even at the expense of locals and salmon.  The days of huge clear cuts are over as the huge drainages that were fruitful such as Katlian or Corner bay, etc have been cleared and the trees are not mature enough to even log those spots again.  No locals support this. The 80's hey dey of logging is dead. Time to move.  Concerned citizen,  Joe Jurczak have been cleared and the trees are not mature enough to even log those spots again.  No locals support this. The 80's hey dey of logging is dead. Time to move.  Concerned citizen,  Joe Jurczak	Alaskan citizens that actually live in these areas. Similar to the Pebble Mine, they are willing to override science
Concerned citizen,  Joe Jurczak	The days of huge clear cuts are over as the huge drainages that were fruitful such as Katlian or Corner bay, etc have been cleared and the trees are not mature enough to even log those spots again.
Joe Jurczak	No locals support this. The 80's hey dey of logging is dead. Time to move.
[Position]	Joe Jurczak
	[Position]