Comments: Protect Tongass National Forest

Dear US Forest Service,

I am writing to implore you to leave Tongass National Forest safe from logging and other commercial activities.

Scientists from around the world have told us that we need to make strong and swift changes to avoid the worst impacts of climate change. Protecting and restoring forests is one of those changes. Allowing roads and lodging inside Tongass National Forest at this critical junction in history would be short-sighted and immoral, knowing what we now know about global warming.

We have a moral obligation to do our utmost to leave our children a world similar to the one we have enjoyed, and opening more forested areas to destruction is definitely NOT the way to accomplish this.

I am vehemently opposed to any efforts to weaken safeguards for roadless areas in Tongass National Forest. Please do the right thing and protect our forests.

Sincerely,
