

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 10/21/2019 8:00:00 AM

First name: Ray

Last name: Boyda

Organization:

Title:

Comments: Unregulated clear-cutting of national forest land is part of the problem of climate change. The logging industry profits from doing severe damage to the land the environment and the animals that inhabit the area. It also affects the entire world. We don't need to open more land or build more roads in national forests.

[Position]

[Position]