Comments: If these sections of lower elevation areas of the Crazies are traded then it will push the public further back from public access, in essence, keeping us at a distance from the fertile elk havens and perfectly set up access point we all know and love. I vehemently oppose the trading of these sections of land based on this and also due to generations of my own family having spent decades hunting these specific areas and acquiring such rich memories to last a lifetime. I just cannot see giving these sections up via a land swap as ever being anything but a nightmarishly bad idea. Please do not get rid of these sections of land. It would be nothing but another great travesty in the greater fight for public access to quality public land that is increasingly hard to come by with each passing year due to wealthy out of state buyers gobbling up vast amounts of land and landlocking us out via an absent minded legislature that sees no need to legislate law to keep these devious and greedy private interests at bay.
