

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 10/29/2019 8:00:00 AM

First name: Patricia

Last name: Pesko

Organization:

Title:

Comments: The Alaska Roadless Rule protects over 9 million acres of old growth forest and numerous species of animals. To insert exemptions into this law would most certainly impact the pristine nature of this forest...causing irreversible damage!

I very much support alternative 1, which would take no action and essentially, keep the roadless rule in place, as it should be.

[Position]

[Position]