Comments: 1 I oppose the limits on off road game retrieval. Deer, and bear should be added to this, especially if the hunter is alone. Driving off road should also be allowed to assist an injured person by anyone action good faith to assist a person in distress or assisting search and rescue. The reason for just allowing all retrieval, because that's what other forests have one is unsupported.

2 Limiting all camping 300 feet from a road is going to have problems and leave campers with a poor experience, exposing them to road dust. Just prohibit camping in a location not obviously used. There are 7+ million residents in Arizona, users will increase.

3 I oppose most of the road closures, as the forestservice has been closing roads not in their inventory. Especially reports any part of the 300 road.

4 Limiting auv trails to 50 inches is unworkable as most of the units are wider than that. Dixie forest in Utah only designated " no full sized vehicles" except where bridges have not been widened. This will keep families out of these trails as no 4 seaters are under 50 inches.
