Comments: To Whom Reads This.

I have lived in Montana my whole life, hunting, fishing and hiking on public lands. Having spent lots of time on the Northern and Western side's of the Crazies, but limited time on the Eastern or Southern side's. The ranches all around the Crazies have slowly been bought up. Access being closed off, no more good old "montana" hand shake and "thanks". That has been replaced with No Trespassing signs, Stay Out, etc. Trading land to benefit a couple rich out-of-state land owners while making it harder for the people of Montana who actually use and enjoy this great state year round. Who benefits more the a few wealthy land owners who might be here for a week, or the people of Montana? Think of the People who truly enjoy the Public Land who Hike, Hunt, Fish, Mountain Bike, Etc.

Thanks for Your Time and Consideration.
