

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 10/27/2019 8:00:00 AM

First name: Jerami

Last name: Martin

Organization:

Title:

Comments: These are areas of nature that we'll never get back if they are cut down. Opening up the Tongass National Forest to logging is just following down an unsustainable path. This is just kicking the can down the road, giving future generations even more of a burden. Instead of looking for a quick way to make money, we should be investing in more sustainable solutions and alternatives to logging. Stop ruining our country by destroying these preserved areas. Stop ruining our climate by perpetuating deforestation and building more roads. Short term plans don't help economies. Look for a long term sustainable solution.

[Position]

[Position]