Comments: I strongly oppose this land swap and any for that matter those are resources our country has managed since acquiring them along with any infrastructure or fencing that may be on that parcel. This is land that families have enjoyed for generations and has become special to someone maybe it will be special to my kids someday . I dont believe someone would just trade an equally special place for another so that suggests that we would come out on the losing end of this deal and then to top it off it would have to be brought up to forest service specifications meaning fence, surveying, bathrooms, access roads, and the cost costs that go along with the transfer so tell me how this could ever be anything but some sort of abuse of the system and a waste of our money

Thank you for hearing my comments
