Comments: Hello, I hope you are well and safe. My name is Martin Lara I'm part Native American of the Arizona heritage. I grew up in SoCal, but spent my summers in AZ in Clifton a mining town started in the 1800's by monks from Spain traveling with Francisco Coronado's group through the Southwest. As my cousin Frank could tell better. My family has a long history of the treatment of the people and resources they depend on and have been entrusted with. We've seen stealing of our country's resources for profit and national security to the benefit of who. The environment is too fragile right now. And opening the region to the public for profit is not sensible or needed. Protect your lands for there are those who will partake in your bounty, but leave you with dust. Be Safe
