Comments: Please prevent the fragmentation of the Tongass National Forest. At a time in history when so many natural places on earth continue to be degraded and destroyed, we need to work even harder to save the places that are still the most pristine. Wildlife need intact forests. Our climate needs intact forests. Future generations need intact forests. With so much of our planet impacted by humans, we need to save the few areas that remain relatively untouched. We owe it to future generations and all life on this planet.
