Comments: Hello,

My company relies on the healthy forests needed to sustain salmon runs and those salmon are at risk if the roadless rule is rescinded. We spend millions of dollars in this economy building infrastructure and also providing 20 high paying jobs to local Alaskans. This is not a partisan issue, it's about what Alaskan's want who live and work here. We clearly want the roadless rule to remain and the no action alternative.

We have a special resource in our old growth forests and think the most value is in tourism and fishing. There aren't many places left in the world as special as Tongass and we can build an even larger value tourism and fishing economy by leaving the roadless rule in place. Thanks for your consideration on this and listening to all stakeholders.
